A cartoon caterpillar with a yellow body, orange segments, and a smiling face. It has two large, white eyes with black pupils and a simple curved line for a mouth. The caterpillar has small, black, curly antennae on its head. Its body is segmented, with the head and first segment being yellow and the following four segments being orange. It has small, black, spiky protrusions along its back. The caterpillar is standing on four small, yellow, foot-like appendages.
